

Volunteers began by trimming branches off the already established trees, to provide light for plants on the ground so they would thrive.

The Long Bank project began in earnest in 2023, many hours were spent undertaking a general tidy up of what had become an uncared-for wilderness.

The transformation was to be amazing!

The Long Bank required just a little TLC to style it into a thriving and interesting mini woodland area

