

One item of historical interest didn't have a blue plaque in place and that was related to the prosperity that Tom Murrant brought to the town, when he set up boat building at a new factory on the Ring Road.

So we didn't forget the late Tom Murrant who was the founder of Sealine, once one of the biggest manufacturers in Europe of ocean going motorboats

… based in landlocked Kidderminster!!